Summit Music Festival

The 2017 SUMMIT MUSIC FESTIVAL, our 27th season, will be an expanded two-week session starting Saturday, July 29th, and ending on Sunday, August 13th. This season, participants will have the option to add comprehensive or other intensive seminar programs to enhance their individual study. This new feature is a result of reflecting on the evolving needs of the new generations of musicians, feedback from participants and faculty, along with many years of experience. Some of the highlights of the season will include Master Classes and Special Events with renowned artists such as Aaron Rosand & Dmitri Berlinsky (violin), Larry Dutton & Richard Young (viola), Fred Sherry & Amit Peled (cello), Ilya Itin & Anthony Newman (piano), and many more. Founders, Efrem Briskin and David Krieger, Program Director Massimiliano Mainolfi, and the SMF Board of Directors, are excited about our continued collaboration with Manhattanville College as our festival home.

Orchestra Programs

Applicants may elect to participate for no additional fee. Placement is subject to auditions.

FESTIVAL ORCHESTRA is where all the elements of music making culminate in a grand performance event. The orchestra will study and perform some of the most inspiring works of the vast literature under the direction of Yoram Youngerman. The final concert will feature the Junior Division First Prize winner of the 2016 Mary Smart Concerto Competition.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA, a more intimate ensemble, consists of students selected for their technical and musical achievement. The chamber orchestra will study elements that combine individual virtuosity in an ensemble setting. Under the direction of Eduard Schmiieder, they will perform some of the most challenging repertoire of the orchestral literature. The final concert will feature the Senior Division First Prize winner of the 2016 Mary Smart Concerto Competition. Participants will be selected.
